Regional Planning Organizations

Western CT Council of Governments

www.westcog.org

WestCOG is a regional planning organization composed of mayors and first selectmen of the 18 member towns in the Southwestern and Western Connecticut region. WestCOG serves as a forum to promote cooperation among member municipalities. It also advises the region on land use, economic, emergency, and environmental planning.

South Western Region Metropolitan Planning Organization

SWRMPO is supported by WestCOG staff and is one of the region's two metropolitan planning organizations (MPOs), which are the federally mandated organizations designated by the governor as the forum for cooperative transportation planning and decision-making. The chief elected officials or their designees from the Southwestern region's eight towns, including Weston, and directors of the region's transit districts make up the region's MPO.
